The Džber (Tub) washbasin is a product of the JIKA ART project. Its goal is to bring art to ordinary bathrooms and at the same time give young designers a chance. The washbasin, which attracts with its inspiration in history, is the work of Barbora Vinařová. The pail belongs to the so-called countertop washbasins. It will be removed on wood suitable for bathroom areas and on ceramic or other substrates. It has a Ø 410 mm in the lower part, 460 mm in the upper part and a height of 200 mm. The handle, which can be used to hang a towel, increases it by another 100 mm. The bucket is produced in the form of a limited edition and is offered including a non-closable waste valve with a white ceramic cover H8981840000281. Those interested can see it in the Prague Gallery - Art of Bathrooms in Prague.
